No. 49, South Bridge Street, Edin.

CHARLES HENRY CORE takes the liberty of informing his friends and the public, that his present STOCK is entirely new.
The CHINA is particularly beautiful—the Wedgewood and other Stoneware comprehensive of the most fashionable articles of the best quality; and in consequence of frequent demands for common White ware, he has provided an assortment of it also.

The Epergnes, Chandeliers, Girandoles, and other articles of cut Glass, many of which are upon new and improved plans have been carefully taken from the most reputable manufacturers, and the most ingenious workmen in both kingdoms; and the ornamental parts being executed under his own charge,
he cannot be underfold.

On the whole he flatters himself, that his present stock is not equalled in Scotland, and from his long experience in the trade, that he will always be able to furnish the public with a variety well deserving their attention.

N. B.—Country Dealers will be supplied on terms not less favourable than they will obtain from the manufacturers themselves.

THE EARL OF ELGIN'S LIMEWORKS,
AT CHARLESTOWN, NEAR DUNFERMLINE.
THE BURNING OF LIME commenced at these Works
some days ago, and the Public may depend upon a regular and punctual supply of the following articles throughout the whole season, and as late as the weather will permit the operation to be continued, at the following rates, by sea carriage, viz.

Lime-Shells, at 11d. per boll Linlithgow pease measure, consisting of 85 Scots pints, put free on board.
Slacked Lime, at 6s. 6d. per Chaldor of 18 bolls.

ones as, with proper recommendations, are pleased to favour the works with their orders.
Letters and commissions may be addressed "to the Manager of the Earl of Elgin's Lime-Works, Charlestown, by North " Queensferry." These orders will be attended to with as much punctuality as the nature of the trade will permit; and the friends and customers of the Works may rest assured, that their interest and accommodation will be studied as much as possible.

Shipmasters frequenting and favouring the Works may depend upon civil usage, and the strictest justice in regard to their loading births, while they confine themselves to the usual practice and established regulations of the port, and they will receive the common encouragement in point of freights very im-partially.

The greatest part of the orders transmitted to the Works are wished to be executed in June, July, and August, particularly in June and July, which cannot possibly be accomplished. And many orders are not sent until the cargo is immediately wanted, which frequently puts it out of the Manager's power either to give a positive answer, or to serve the customers so much to their time as he would incline. To remedy this inconvenience as much as possible, it is earnestly requested that customers will be pleased to transmit their orders as early in the season as they can, and that they will particularly mention their designations and places of abode, with their full address, by post, that the letter transmitting the invoice may go safe to hand.

N. B. A filling for anchorage must be paid for every vessel at clearing out as usual.

SOUTHWICK, in the stewartry of Kirkcubright, consisting of upwards of 1800 acres English statute measure of arable, pasture, and meadow ground, well inclosed and subdivided, mostly with durable stone dykes. In point of situation the estate is pleasantly situated, being near to the firth of Solway Firth, opposite to Maryport, 12 miles south of Dumfries, 4 miles west from the mouth of the Nith, and the water of Southwick is navigable up to the lands. There are thriving valuable coppice woods and plantations above 40 years growth on the estate, with an excellent mansion-house. The valuation is L. 475 Scots.
—William Baird, overker, will shew the premises.

LOT II.—THE LANDS OF DODHOUSE and DODHOUSE-RIG, 20 miles south of Edinburgh, 14 south of Haddington, on the road to, and in the parish of Lauder, and measuring about 1000 acres, upwards of 200 thereof has been improved with lime and dung. There is an outflow of houses in sufficient repair upon the lands; and the tenant will live the same.

LOT III.—THE LANDS, HILL, and SHORE of BENE-NECH, situated on the south-west end of the island of Mull, consisting of upwards of 1800 acres of good pasture ground, very improvable, and would admit of being inclosed at a small expence. There is a promising appearance of coal, level, fire, and of a rich caking quality, upon the property; and, as there is a great demand for coal on the west coast, and the distance to the harbour of Lochfirth being short, a very considerable sale may be expected.
Apply to Henry Jardine, writer to the signet, Edinburgh, who will shew the plans of the estates, and inform as to other particulars.

JUDICIAL SALE OF LANDS IN ROSS-SHIRE.

To be exposed to public roup and sale, before the Lord Ordinary on the bills, within the New Session House, Edinburgh, on the 17th day of June next, betwixt the hours of four and six afternoon,
THE TOWNS and LANDS of AULTBEA, DRUM-CHORKE, Salmon-Fishing thereof, Teanastien and Blairmore, all lying within the parish of Orerloch and Sheriffdom of Ross, belonging to Captain John Mackenzie of Grunziard.

The total free rental, stock and teind, to which last the proprietor has also right, when taken some time ago, extended after deducting 4. 14. 4d. for the public burdens, to 240l. 17s.
7d. 3-pence Sterling, which being valued at 25 years purchase, the uplet price is 3024l. 1d. 3-pence Sterling.
But it is informed, that since the judicial rental was taken, the lands have risen to about 160l. of gross rent; and from their great extent, and local situation in the neighbourhood of the thriving fishing station of Ullspool, established by the British Society, a further considerable increase of rent may be expected, were leases to be given. The lands also extend a considerable way along the sea coast, but no value is put upon the help in the above rental.

The articles and conditions of roup, titles, and printed copies of the memorial and abstract of the rental, may be had at the office of Mr Alexander Ross, deputy clerk of sessions, or of Mr Horne, W. S. Argyle Square.

TRIAL OF LORD CAMELFORD.

Extract of a Letter dated English Harbour, Antigua, 9th Feb. 1798.

"No doubt you have heard of the death of Lieut. Peterfon, of his Majesty's ship Perdrix, who was shot by Lord Camelford. The circumstances of this new catastrophe in our annals of naval transactions, are as follows:

"Lord Camelford has the rank of master and commander, and has the command of his Majesty's sloop of war the Favourite. The Favourite and Perdrix were lying in English Harbour on the 13th of January, at which time Captain Fahie, of the Perdrix, was absent in St. Kitt's. Mr. Peterfon was first Lieutenant of the Perdrix. Lord Camelford, as being commanding officer at that time in English Harbour, ordered Lieut. Peterfon to row guard in the harbour for that night.—This order Lieut. Peterfon refused to obey, Capt. Fahie being Lord Camelford's senior officer, and his Lordship having therefore, in his opinion, no right to give the order. Both ships were hauled along-side the Dock-yard repairing, and the companies of each ship collected round the party in the Dock-yard, where the altercation began. Many words passed between the Lieutenant and his Lordship, but still Mr. Peterfon refused to obey. About 12 of the crew of the Perdrix came to the spot armed, Lord Camelford brought six of his marines to the place armed also. Mr. Peterfon drew up his men in a line, and stood at their head with his sword by his side; Lord Camelford also drew up his six men in a line fronting the Perdrix's people, and distant about four yards. His Lordship then quitted the place for about two minutes, and returned with a pistol in his hand. Mr. Peterfon was standing at the head of his men, as before, with his sword drawn, the point of it resting on the ground; in this position Lord Camelford went up to him with his pistol in his hand, and said "Do you still persist in refusing to obey my orders?"

The Lieutenant answered, "Yes, I do refuse." Lord Camelford instantly clapped the pistol to his right breast, and fired. Mr. Peterfon fell, and never spoke a word more, as the ball went entirely through his body. His corpse was then carried into the captain-house, where Lord Camelford attended, and examined the body.—The armed part of the crews of the two ships quietly went aboard their own ships, and Lord Camelford gave himself up as a prisoner to Captain Matfon, of the Beaver sloop of war, in which ship he was carried up to the Admiral in Port Royal Bay, and there tried and acquitted. The Coroner's inquest on Mr. Peterfon, brought in their verdict—Lost his life in a mutiny.

"Lord Camelford appears to me to be a new character in his class. His person is not unlike the late Lord George Gordon when he was of the same age; their whimsy is somewhat similar. He makes use of no swabs (gold shoulder-knots), but still appears in a Lieutenant's uniform. His dress is indeed extremely remarkable; all the hair is shaved off his head, except a hat, which, by its appearance, one would think had served with Sir Walter Raleigh. He is dressed in a green with verdigraese as the ship's bottom; and with this all the rest of his dress corresponds."

HALIFAX (Nova Scotia) Feb. 3.

About the end of December, the Hero, Thomas Cuninghame master, from Antigua, to Wiscasset, in the State of Massachusetts, anchored near Cole Harbour, flitute of provisions and water, having also suffered extremely by violent storms and the severest cold. They were relieved by a Mr. Munday, an aged person, inhabiting a cottage at that place, with all the provisions he had provided for the use of his family through the winter, and proceeded to sea. Mr. Cuninghame left a memorandum in writing, that, upon the 14th of December, he saw a number of men upon Sable Island, making signals; but, the weather being tempestuous, and he not in any situation to relieve them, availed himself of the first opportunity of communicating the melancholy information. As soon as the weather, which was then very cold, a little moderated, this note was transmitted to his Excellency Sir John Wentworth, who left no time in hiring the schooner Black Snake, Thomas Parker master, of Liverpool, which was properly fitted for the accommodation of passengers, to proceed immediately to the island, furnishing an experienced pilot from his Majesty's armed snow, Earl Moira. She was victualled with a suitable quantity of provisions from the King's stores, through the orders of Prince Edward, and furnished with blankets, and every kind of warm clothing, by a loan from a number of the inhabitants, and sailed from this port the 12th of this month. Captain Parker returned on Sunday, and by him we heard that the unfortunate people upon the island were Captain Wyatt, and the crew of the brig Prince's Amelia, from London, bound to this port, wrecked on the night of the 9th of November, on the south side of the island, where the passengers and crew got safe on shore next day; before the vessel went to pieces, they had time to save their baggage and provisions sufficient for their subsistence. They found a hut, in which they remained until they erected other places to protect them from the inclemency of the weather. Captain Wyatt fitted up his long boat in the best manner in his power, and threw over a deck of canvas, and, after dragging her to the north side of the island, embarked about fourteen days ago, with the Hon. Lieutenant Cochran, of the 7th regiment, and four of his crew, to obtain relief for those who remained on the island; and we are happy to learn, they are safely arrived at one of the harbours to the eastward, where they have obtained a good pilot, and may be hourly expected. Captain Parker's firmness deserves the highest encomium, for his having so perseveringly encountered the greatest dangers and severest weather, in beating about the island for several days before he could effect a landing, to succour the remainder of the people, whom he brought safe, with Mr. R. Williams, of London, merchant, who was also a passenger in the Prince's Amelia, and humanely consented to remain upon the island, rather than incommode Capt. Wyatt, that he might encourage and keep up the spirits of his fellow sufferers.

It is with pleasure that we now announce the arrival on Tuesday afternoon, of the Prince's Amelia long boat, with Captain Wyatt, the Hon. B. Cochran, and all the other persons who left the island in the boat.

FALMOUTH, April 6.

This morning arrived his Majesty's packet Walpole, Captain Ryan, from Lisbon, with mails, and dispatches from the Court of Portugal to the Court of Great Britain. During her passage, seven days, she met with strong gales from different quarters. On the 23d ult. five line of battle ships sailed from Lisbon to join Sir John Orde (who was then cruising off Cadix with 16 fail of the line), namely Prince George, Blenheim, Audacious, Excellent, and Defence. Lord St. Vincent was at Lisbon, with his flag flying on board the Ville de Paris. His Lordship, officers, and crew, were in perfect health, as were the officers and crew of the different line of battle ships and frigates under the command of Sir J. Orde.

The fleet bound to Lisbon, Oporto, &c. which passed this place the 14th ult. arrived at Lisbon the 24th, after a passage of ten days, all well. There was a fleet expected daily from the Brazils.

There are about 70 English transports at Lisbon, all ready for sea, only waiting orders.

This day arrived the French privateer Caesar, of 14 guns and 50 men, prize to his Majesty's ship Cambria, Hon. Captain Legge, captured to the west of Seville. She belongs to St. Maloes, had been out three months, and captured three very valuable neutral vessels sent them for France. She was taken the 27th ult.—The Cambria has also captured a French privateer (pierced for 20 guns, but had only 16 on board) on the 29th ult. called the Point de Laundry. She had 102 men on board, had been out of Bourdeaux six days, and taken nothing. She is a new ship, and per-bottomed, had only been launched sixteen days, and fails remarkably fast. She was directed to proceed to Falmouth or Plymouth.

THE ESTATE OF CULROSS.

WITH COAL AND SALT WORKS, In the close neighbourhood of the burgh of Culrois, and Frith of Forth.

To be exposed to Sale by auction, within the Parliament or New Session House of Edinburgh, by authority of the Lords of Council and Session, on Wednesday the 16th of May next, 1798, betwixt the hours of 4 and 6 afternoon.

THE LANDS and ESTATE of CULROSS, comprehending the farms of Bogside, Whitehills, Righead, Hole, Kirkton, Baad, Waa, Blenkeirry, Gaggie, Halley's Land, Woodhead, Abbey and Byrehead Parks, &c. with the tithes and pertinents, all lying within the parish of Culrois and shire of Perth.—Together with the COAL and SALT WORKS of Culrois, Colliers and Salters Houses, Salt-Pans, &c. and whole parts, pendicles, privileges, and pertinents thereto belonging.

Also, THE ABBEY or MANSSION HOUSE of Culrois, with the garden, wood, and wood land adjoining, right of Patronage of the parish kirk of Culrois, Aisle in the church, right of fishing, with eleven cruives at Langannet, and right of cutting sea-ware on the shore opposite to the Abbey of Culrois.—Together with some SMALL FEU DUTIES, payable out of houses in Pettycommon and St Mungo's; all as more particularly described in the proven rental and prepared state of the proceeds of sale, at the upset price of 21,402l. 6s. 6d. 8-12ths.

There are upwards of 500 acres of arable ground in the premises, besides moor ground, garden, and planting, and the Parks of Abbey, Byrehead, Woodhead, and Gaggie, which lie contiguous to the mansion house, are all in grass.

The free rent of the current year is about 450l. and as those parts of the estate under grass are let from year to year, and the other farms only for three years, some of which expired Martinmas last, and the rest will expire at Martinmas 1799, considerable rise of rent may be expected for leases of longer endurance.

The Abbey or mansion house of Culrois is an elegant building, of excellent workmanship, pleasantly situated, and commands a most extensive view of the Frith of Forth, and surrounding country, and the coal and salt works may be carried on to considerable advantage.

The estate holds partly of the Crown, and partly of subjects superiors, and stands valued in the cess-books at 492l. Scots. The tithes are valued, and all exhausted by the stipends allocated, and payable to the present ministers.

The tenants will show the lands, and the gardener will show the mansion-house and garden.

The conditions of sale, and proven rental, with plans of the estate and coal works, are to be seen at the office of Mr Bruce, Depute-Clerk of Session; and Robert Watson, writer, Park Street, agent in the sale, will furnish intending officers with printed copies of the memorial, and abstract of the proven rental, and give all further necessary information.

N. B. The sale of this Estate has been repeatedly adjourned, on applications to the Court, and writs of appeal; but there is reason to expect the sale will now proceed on the day appointed, to which intending officers will please attend.

SALE OF LANDS IN THE COUNTY OF ARGYLE. To be SOLD by judicial sale within the New Session House, Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 13th June, 1798, at 6 o'clock afternoon.

THE ESTATE of EDDRUMIE, lying in the parish of Kilmauchie, shire of Perth, and county of Argyle.

The nett free rent of this estate, after all the deductions, conform to the prepared state in the proceeds of sale, amounts to the sum of 981l. 15s. 10d. 11-12ths, which at 27 years purchase, being the value put upon this property by witnesses cited for that purpose, make the value of these lands to amount to

126,308 9 6 9-12

Independent of the lands, there are very extensive woods (both natural and planted) upon the estate. The most valuable of these are the natural woods, presently under lease to the Argyle Furnace Company, along with the farm of Gortanagour, and on which no value is here put, from the length of time (14 years) that the lease is yet to run.—They are, however, valued by skillful men to be worth at a cutting 1,057l.—and the tenants are obliged by the tack to leave them at the expiry of the lease, in six bags of the following ages—12, 10, 8, 6, 4, and 2 years old.

Besides these woods, which from the above circumstance cannot be valued, there are other woods upon the estate, (independent of a great deal of very thriving plantations) and these are valued at

The free teind, after deducting the minister's stipend, amounts to 215l. 12s. 9d. 1-12th, the privilege of purchasing which at 5 years purchase, is

1,078 3 9 5-12

Sum at which the lands are to be exposed

127,386 13 4 2-12

This valuable and extensive estate possesses peculiar advantages, and indeed a property seldom occurs for investing money on so desirable a security.

It lies compactly betwixt the salt water loch of Lochfine, and the fresh water lake of Lochow, and runs upon the beautiful banks of the former for about four miles, affording many beneficial situations for fishing stations.

It embraces considerable tracts of mountain and valuable pasture, and that part of the property which runs along the side of Lochow, is of a remarkable deep fertile soil, and capable of great improvement.

There is a modern Mansion House in good repair, with pleasure ground surrounding it, the plantations of which are laid down with taste, and there are a suitable set of offices annexed.

The north boundary of this estate is within seven miles of Inverary, and the south extremity is only six miles from the west entry, and 12 miles from the east entry of the Crinan Canal, so that when the Canal is finished, the communication will be easy and commodious.

From the very low rents and the situation in which this estate has been, great rises may naturally be expected, and the profusion of limestone which is found in the lands, will contribute materially to this object, under proper management.

A purchaser, besides, may have immediate access, as there is hardly a lease on the estate, and those only for three years, excepting the one formerly mentioned to the Argyle Furnace Company.

There is sufficient valued rent for a freehold qualification, and the rest of the estate holds of subjects superior for the feu-duties of 32l. 2s. 3d. and moderate composition on the entries of heirs and singular successors.

There is plenty of game of every denomination, fresh water and salt water fish, in the greatest profusion; and in short a more delightful, more beneficial, and well connected property seldom presents itself to the public.

The articles and conditions of sale, abstract of the judicial rental, and the title deeds, are to be seen in the hands of Alexander Stevenson, depute clerk of Session; and for farther particulars, intending purchasers may apply to Cornelius Elliot, writer to the signet, agent in the sale, or to Niel MacCibbon, writer in Inverary, the judicial factor upon the estate.

GRASS PARKS OF

Several Thousand Stones of excellent Clover and Ryegrass Hay, partly got in in 1796, and partly in 1797, are on sale at Prestonhall.

LANDS IN THE COUNTY OF FORFAR. To be SOLD by public roup, within the house of William Gordon, vinner in Dundee, upon Friday the 17th day of August 1798, at one o'clock afternoon.

THE LANDS of KINCRIEGH, with those parts after mentioned of the Lands of KINCALDUM, and those either together, or in the following lots, as purchasers may incline.

Lot I.—Being a Part of the Lands of Kincaldrum, with the Mansion-house and Garden, consisting of 134 Scots acres of good arable land, inclosed partly with stone dykes, and partly with thriving hedges. The whole inclosures of these lands are well watered, and they are out of lease, so that the purchaser will get immediate access.

Lot II.—Being Part of the Lands of Kincricgh, consisting of 189 Scots acres, all arable, and capable of great improvement. The present leases terminate with crop 1799. There is a good stone quarry in the ground, for inclosing or building road leading from Forfar to Dundee, it might be leased out to manufacturers to great advantage.

Lot III.—Comprises the remainder of the Lands of Kincricgh, and the Govals, and consists of 331 Scots acres.—The present leases of these lands expire with crop 1799.

The whole of these lands are contiguous to one another, and are within about seven miles of the town of Dundee, and five of the town of Forfar, to both which towns there is commodious and easy access, by an excellent turnpike road lately made.

There will be attached to the above lots, if sold together, or to one of the above lots, if sold separately, a Superiority affording a Freehold Qualification in the county, if the purchaser incline.

The title deeds are in the hands of Frederick Witherington and Alexander Pearson, writers to the signet, to whom, or to Mr Bower the proprietor, at his house of Kinneston, any person who is desirous to purchase the whole lands, or any of the lots, by private bargain before the day of sale, or who wishes for further information, may apply.

SALE OF LANDS, IN THE COUNTIES OF Ayr and ARGYLE. And of Houses in the Burgh of Kilmarnock.

To be Sold by Public Roup.—The time and places of sale to be inserted in a future advertisement.

THE FOLLOWING LANDS and HOUSES, which be longed in property in whole or in part to the late William Paterson, of Kaimhill, writer in Kilmarnock, in the lots after mentioned.

Lot I.—The just and equal half of the LANDS and ESTATE of ASHFIELD or Larganahusheen and Crudehills, with the two-mek land of Drynick or Drynick four-mek land of Dalnot or Auchilbrin, the island called Island Loos or Ellantown, and other islands belonging to the estate (excepting the pendicle called Darrochnachmurie) all lying within the Lordship and Parish of North Knapdale, and Shire of Argyle.

These Lands lying contiguous, are situated on the west coast of Argyleshire, and on the east side of the arm of the sea called Lochween, within five miles of the Crinan Canal. The arable ground, which is of considerable extent, is of good quality, and the hill, which is very extensive, stretching back about three miles from the shore, affords excellent pasture equally adapted for sheep and black cattle. The shores, which extend about three miles along Lochween, produce considerable quantities of sea ware fit for kelp or manure. There is a good mansion house on the lands of Ashfield, and the farm houses, marsh dikes, and subdivisions are in good order.

At
